
Standardize Milk Labels and Caps Color Petition

Have you ever went to a different store and purchase a gallon of milk. To find that when you got home you picked up a different grade of milk. Don't always rely on the color of the label or cap. It could be different than what buy regularly.

Standardize Milk Labels and Caps by Colors

If your like me I shop the same Grocery store all the time. Except if something is on sale at a different store. While I was there I decided instead of driving across the street to get milk I picked up a gallon at that store.

Need less to say I got home with Skim Milk! Because I picked up the color label and cap used at my regular store. I didn't ever think there was not a National Standard color designation. Help me and others pick up the grade of milk you want when shopping different locations that sale Milk.

National Suggestion Milk Colors by Product: Red - Whole, Purple - 2%, Light Blue - Skim, Blue - 1%, Orange - Lactose intolerant, Brown - Chocolate Milk, Pink - Strawberry Milk, Green - Butter Milk, Black - Half & Half

Thank You for Supporting Milk Standardization Colors
